

Miss Elizabeth Antoinette Stuart to Be Married To William Johnson Moore, of Kentucky, Today

Marriage Ceremony to Be Performed at St. Margaret's Church.

The marriage of Miss Elizabeth Antoinette Stuart, daughter of the superintendent of public schools, and Mrs. Alexander, of St. Paul, to William Johnson Moore, of Kentucky and Washington, will take place this afternoon at 4:30 o'clock in St. Margaret's Episcopal Church. A large company of relatives and intimate friends will attend the ceremony, which will be solemnized by the Rev. Herbert Scott Smith, rector of the church.

The floral decorations at the church are unusually beautiful. Quantities of tall palms form a semi-circle around the chancel to the end of the choir pews and directly within this is a semi-circle of standards of white chrysanthemums which continue on down the aisle, marking the reserved pews for the families. Clusters of white chrysanthemums at each pew form a floral nave for the bridal procession. An especially artistic feature of the decorations are two beautiful French baskets of chrysanthemums hung at either side of the chancel.

Mr. Stuart will give his daughter in marriage, and her only attendant will be her sister, Mrs. William Slaughter Hardesty. The bride will wear a hand-some gown of ivory duchesse satin with a yoke and sleeves and front panel of rose point lace. Her veil of tulle, draped back from the face, will be held with orange blossoms, and instead of the conventional bouquet she will carry an ivory prayer book, one of her wedding gifts, with a marker of white satin and a white enamel and gold cross, studded with pearls. Over her arm she will carry a scarf effect of white cord and ribbons of the valley. A diamond pendant, the bridegroom's gift, will be her only ornament.

Mrs. Hardesty To Wear Crepe Meteor.

Mrs. Hardesty, the matron of honor, will wear orchid crepe meteor heavily embroidered in self-tones and trimmed with rare old Chrys lace. A big black picture hat trimmed with a willow plume and a cluster of orchid chrysanthemums tied with orchid ribbons will complete her costume.

Dr. Mead Moore, brother of the bridegroom, will act as best man, and the ushers will be Harlan Moore and Clayton Old, of New York; Dr. William Slaughter Hardesty, and Sidney Taliaferro.

Owing to the continued ill health of the bride's mother, there will be no reception after the ceremony.

Mr. Moore will take his bride for a Southern bridal trip. The bride's traveling gown will be of amethyst broadcloth with a hat to match.

Among the out-of-town guests at the wedding will be Mr. and Mrs. De La Rombach, of Scranton, Pa.; Dr. Glendon Timberlake, of Baltimore, and Miss Caldwell, of Lynn, Mass.

Miss Carr Weds J. F. Kelly.

Miss Mary B. Carr and James F. Kelly were married this afternoon at 2 o'clock at St. Martin's Catholic Church, the pastor, the Rev. Eugene A. Hannan, officiating, in the presence of a small party of relatives and friends.

The marriage of Miss Agnes C. Cassell and George E. Hanson will take place this evening at 8 o'clock at the rectory of St. Martin's Catholic Church, the pastor, the Rev. Eugene A. Hannan, officiating.

Mrs. C. T. Griffiths, of 1723 Church street, entertained a number of young people last evening in celebration of the birthday of her daughter, Miss Bertha L. Griffiths. Among the guests were Miss Sidney S. Pearson, Miss Zeta A. Byrnes, Miss Elizabeth Byrnes, Miss Agnes Craven, Miss Mildred McElfresh, Robert L. Harden, Edward C. Bigelow, John Towles, Augustine Prentice, Hamilton Blandford, and Gus Kenner.

Mrs. Sophia Windeck and her daughter, Mrs. Anna Windeck, entertained at luncheon today at the Massachusetts in honor of Miss Mittle Hall, of Chicago, and John Hall, of Walla Walla, Wash.

The other guests at the luncheon were Mr. and Mrs. John Miller, and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Maxwell, of New Jersey. The table was prettily decorated with autumn leaves and yellow and white chrysanthemums. After luncheon the party attended the matinee at the New National Theater.

The marriage of Miss Lily Cordery Hawkins and Leon Ulman, of Salisbury, Md., will take place this evening at 7:30 o'clock in the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Holmes, 226 Q street.

Only a small company of relatives and close friends will attend the ceremony at which the Rev. S. H. Greene, of Calvary Baptist Church, will officiate. A number of additional guests have been asked for the reception which will follow from 8 to 9:30 o'clock.

Miss Emily Rider will attend the bride as maid of honor and Harry Ulman will be best man for his brother.

After a Northern bridal trip, Mr. Ulman and his bride will make their future home in Salisbury, Md., where they will be at home after December 1.

Among the out of town guests in Washington for the wedding are Mrs. Caroline Ulman, mother of the bridegroom; Mrs. A. L. Barker, and Miss Sarah Ulman, his sisters, and his aunt, Mrs. Isaac Ulman, all of Salisbury.

Miss Josephine Scofield, of Boston; Mrs. John Elliott and Miss Dorothy Elliott, of Philadelphia; Mr. and Mrs. William Schuyler, of Burlington, N. J.; Mrs. G. A. Matthews, of Philadelphia, and Mrs. Sarah Conway, of Philadelphia.

Mrs. J. W. MacMurray And Miss MacMurray Return.

Mrs. J. W. MacMurray and Miss MacMurray, who spent the summer abroad, have arrived in Washington and have opened their residence on Massachusetts avenue for the winter.

The Naval Attaché of the American Embassy at France and Mrs. Henry H. Hough will arrive in Washington in a few days to be the guests of Mrs. MacMurray and Miss MacMurray for a few days before they sail for France.

DON'T STAY FAT

This is fashion's decree as well as the general verdict of humanity. Fatness is despised by every one—fat people most of all. You must be thin to be popular, attractive, comfortable, or contented. How to accomplish this much desired end without danger to health or resulting wrinkles or flabbiness was an unanswered question until the discovery of the famous Marmola Prescription. Now that this method has proved to be absolutely harmless, and the same formula is put up in the form of Marmola Prescription Tablets, thousands of men and women are reducing to natural symmetry at the rate of a pound or more a day, and are better health and spirits from the change. This method of reduction is no hardship on the smallest person, as all druggists sell a large case of Marmola Prescription Tablets for 75c, or the Marmola Co., 281 Monroe ave., Detroit, Mich., will mail a full case for the same small amount.

RAY RAPS TARIFF IN RALLY SPEECH

Democratic Congressional Candidate Making Hard Campaign in Maryland.

UPPER MARLBORO, Md., Oct. 25.—J. Enos Ray, Democratic candidate for Congress, is making an aggressive campaign in Prince George county. He was the principal speaker at a rally of several hundred voters yesterday, the greater portion of his address being devoted to an attack upon the tariff.

Irving Handy, of Delaware, a well-known Democratic orator, who has paid former visits to this district, also played the opposition party because of its tariff attitude. The rally was presided over by T. Van Claget, who introduced Mr. Ray. "We have in J. Enos Ray a standard-bearer whom we are proud to follow. Whatever may have been our local differences, we are now united," he said.

State Comptroller W. B. Claggett attended the rally, and Alan Bowie was chosen secretary.
